

“The Fourteen Slanders”

Dec. 9, 1276 (Age 55)

Bodhisattva Fukyo of old said that all people have the Buddha nature and that if they embrace the Lotus Sutra, they will never fail to attain Buddhahood. He further stated that to slight a person is to slight the Buddha himself. Thus, his practice was to revere all people. He revered even those who did not embrace the Lotus Sutra because they too had the Buddha nature and might someday believe in the sutra.

(Gosho 1046 / MW 3-207)

Nichiren Shoshu Myosenji

“The Fourteen Slanders”

Dec. 9, 1276 (Age 55)

Bodhisattva Fukyo of old said that all people have the Buddha nature and that if they embrace the Lotus Sutra, they will never fail to attain Buddhahood. He further stated that to slight a person is to slight the Buddha himself. Thus, his practice was to revere all people. He revered even those who did not embrace the Lotus Sutra because they too had the Buddha nature and might someday believe in the sutra.

(Gosho 1046 / MW 3-207)

Nichiren Shoshu Myosenji