

“Reply to the Wife of Lord Ueno”

(“Ueno ama gozen-gohenji ”)

Nov. 1281 (Age 60)

All other teachings explain that one must first perform good deeds in order to later attain Buddhahood. It is, therefore, not clear whether it will ever be attained. However, the Lotus Sutra teaches that the hands used to hold it will immediately enter Buddhahood, and the mouth that chants the Daimoku will instantly become Buddha. (omission)

The Lotus Sutra states, “Among those who hear this Law, there is not one who shall not attain enlightenment.” This passage means that if there are a hundred or even a thousand people who embrace this sutra, all will become Buddhas without exception.
