

“Recorded Lectures”

“Onkō kikigaki”

May 28, 1280 (Age 59)

Now is the time of the Latter Day of the Law, when one can attain Buddhahood by propagating the seven characters of Nam-Myoho-Renge-Kyo, and enables others to receive benefits [from the Buddha]. Thus, if one mixes the practice of chanting the Daimoku with other practices, it will be a deviation from the correct path. This is the time for one to embrace this great mandala of Myoho-Renge-Kyo, engrave it in one’s heart, and chant the Daimoku aloud.

(Gosho p. 1818-1819 / Selected Gosho Passages p.167)

Nichiren Shoshu Myosenji

“Recorded Lectures”

“Onkō kikigaki”

May 28, 1280 (Age 59)

Now is the time of the Latter Day of the Law, when one can attain Buddhahood by propagating the seven characters of Nam-Myoho-Renge-Kyo, and enables others to receive benefits [from the Buddha]. Thus, if one mixes the practice of chanting the Daimoku with other practices, it will be a deviation from the correct path. This is the time for one to embrace this great mandala of Myoho-Renge-Kyo, engrave it in one’s heart, and chant the Daimoku aloud.

(Gosho p. 1818-1819 / Selected Gosho Passages p.167)

Nichiren Shoshu Myosenji