

Reply to Shijo Kingo
(Shijo kingo dono-gohenji)

June 27, 1276 (Age 55)

No greater happiness and comfort exist for all people than to chant Nam-Myoho-Renge-Kyo. The sutra states: “Where living beings enjoy themselves at ease.” This phrase, [“enjoy themselves at ease”], describes the state of “enjoying one’s life of enlightenment and experiencing the joy of the Law.” How can you not be included in “living beings?” This location [designated by “where”] is all of Jambudvipa. Japan exists within this Jambudvipa world. Happiness and comfort signify that, in body and mind and in our existence and environment, we are manifestations of ichinen sanzen (three-thousand realms in a single life-moment) and the Buddha endowed with the property of perfect wisdom. No greater happiness and comfort exist than to uphold the Lotus Sutra. This is what is meant by enjoying “peace and security in this lifetime and good circumstances in the next.”

(Gosho p. 991 / Nichiren Shoshu Monthly August 2023)

Nichiren Shoshu Myosenji

Reply to Shijo Kingo
(Shijo kingo dono-gohenji)

June 27, 1276 (Age 55)

No greater happiness and comfort exist for all people than to chant Nam-Myoho-Renge-Kyo. The sutra states: “Where living beings enjoy themselves at ease.” This phrase, [“enjoy themselves at ease”], describes the state of “enjoying one’s life of enlightenment and experiencing the joy of the Law.” How can you not be included in “living beings?” This location [designated by “where”] is all of Jambudvipa. Japan exists within this Jambudvipa world. Happiness and comfort signify that, in body and mind and in our existence and environment, we are manifestations of ichinen sanzen (three-thousand realms in a single life-moment) and the Buddha endowed with the property of perfect wisdom. No greater happiness and comfort exist than to uphold the Lotus Sutra. This is what is meant by enjoying “peace and security in this lifetime and good circumstances in the next.”

(Gosho p. 991 / Nichiren Shoshu Monthly August 2023)

Nichiren Shoshu Myosenji